One Dead, Seven Injured in Local Weekend Accidents

Eleven traffic accidents over the weekend in the Ontario-Upland area caused one death, seven injuries and extensive damages to at least three vehicles.

Joe Lugo, Ontario pioneer, was the traffic fatality when he was hit by a car as he walked along Mission boulevard. (See other story on this page.)

Three In One

Three persons were injured as the result of an accident at Carbon Canyon road, just east of Payton road, last night at about 11 p.m., state highway patrol officers revealed. Taken to San Antonio Community hospital were Robert Kirkpatrick, 25, 544 East Granada court, Ontario, and Vincent Melandrez, 22, 861 Alpine street, Upland. They were treated for minor injuries. Another passenger, O. A. Hoffman, 472 West street, Upland, also suffered minor injuries, received first aid and was released.

Driver of the vehicle, Kirkpatrick, failed to make the turn, highway patrol officers said. The car turned over and was completely wrecked.

Police Car Involved

A police car driven by Ontario Police Officer Roger H. Sagouspe ran into an island as the two officers on patrol were traveling east on A street. Checking on a suspicious vehicle last night, Sagouspe attempted to make a turn. Watching for cars behind him before he turned around, Sagouspe inadvertently hit the island.

Officer Alfred Bolsta, 513 No. Florence avenue, was treated by a physician and released. He suffered minor injuries.

Two persons were injured in an accident on Saturday morning, when a car driven by Raymond M. Lopez, First and White streets, Pomona, rammed into the back end of a truck driven by Arthur L. Peters, Jr., 625 East 75th street, Los Angeles. Witnesses said Lopez was driving east in the west-bound lane of Highway 99, then turned around into the other lane and "didn't appear to know where he was going", according to reports in police files.

No License

Lopez received multiple lacerations of the face, nose and lips. John Jiminez, 19, a passenger in the Lopez car, also resident of Pomona, received lacerations of the face and head and fractures of the right leg. Both were taken to San Antonio Community hospital. Lopez was cited for not having an operator's license.

Dale Beckett, 12, 219 West Belmont avenue, Ontario, was injured as he was riding his bicycle Saturday afternoon.

Driver of the car was Don Max Zimmerman, 414 East C street, who said the boy swerved suddenly across the street directly in front of the moving car. The boy said he was attempting to cross A street from north to south.

A truck driver who fell asleep at the wheel of his 1948 flat bottom, hit an Edison light pole and sustained slight cuts and bruises yesterday afternoon at 2:45 p.m. Clarence V. Dugan, 832 East G street, driver, was driving at California and Greenwood avenues at the time.

Thief Strikes While Family From Home

While the family was away from home for about an hour last night, someone raided the northwest bedroom and stole three guns, some cash and jewelry, R. W. Gorman, 545 East E street, Ontario, reported to police today.

A Colt police pistol, with black leather holster, black belt with silver buckle and a half box of shells; a Stevens single-shot keepsake gun, Model 1863, and an Iver-Johnson model gun with a short barrel, were missing today, said Gorman.

Also taken were a white gold solitaire diamond ring valued at $150; a white gold Waltham wristwatch with two small diamonds, valued at $100, and a $20 bill.

Police are investigating the possibility that entry into the house could have been made through an unlocked rear door. Full extent of the loss is not yet determined, Gorman said.

Today's Headlines

Four Powers Meet in Spring

PARIS, (AP)—French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman said today that it "seems more and more probable" that a four-power foreign ministers' conference on Germany will be held this spring.

He predicted the date will be determined later this week during four-power conversations at New York.

U. S. Won't Plunge Into War

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Robert Lovett, former undersecretary of state, today denied that the United States would be plunged immediately into war if a North Atlantic pact nation were attacked.

No Escape From Shanghai

SHANGHAI (Censored) (AP)—Traffic was reported suspended today on the last railway escape from Communist-menaced Shanghai to South China.

Inside the city, the chaotic money market crashed at midday, after garrison headquarters outlawed free trading in prewar silver dollars on threat of death—obviously a measure of great desperation.

The Red radio said eight Chinese government armies were "wiped out" and parts of four other armies "routed" in the Nanking-Shanghai-Hangchow area. (A Chinese army is usually 20,000 men.) The Red claim of a "great victory" was not confirmed by government sources. (The Chinese "wiped out" usually can be translated to "defeated".)

16,000 In Three Strikes

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—About 6,500 Philco Corp. workers in the Philadelphia area struck today for higher wages. About 7,000 Singer Sewing Machine workers went on strike at Elizabeth, N. J.

Other strikes crippled transportation in Atlanta; kept 2,600 workers idle in four New Jersey industries; and shut down the Bendix Aviation Corp. products plant at South Bend, Ind., for the 13th day.

Tornadoes Kill Nine

NORMAN, (AP) — Two-day series of tornadoes lashed parts of the south and southwest Saturday and Sunday, killing nine persons and injuring almost 100, according to Associated Press.

Damage was roughly estimated at $2,000,000.

Mississippi and Louisiana were hit by tornadic winds yesterday. Twisters struck in Oklahoma and Texas Saturday. Western Kansas also received minor damage Saturday.

Russians Still Want World

BERLIN, (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today that even if Russia adopts a reasonable attitude temporarily, Communism's eventual aim is still world domination.

The American military governor said he did not know what policy the Russians would adopt at any future meeting of foreign ministers called to discuss Germany.

Hawaii Strike Will Hurt Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Hawaii's longshore strike, if not settled quickly, is going to hit west coast business—and stevedores—in the pocketbook.

San Francisco Bay waterfront business already was sluggish. Shipping leaders estimated the strike would shrink the flow of inbound and outbound cargo through the port of San Francisco by 25,000 tons a week.

Submit New Plans for Our Ramona Freeway

New plans for the Ramona freeway (Highway 99) affecting Ontario and Upland were submitted to the county board of supervisors this morning.

The plans call for additional interchanges at Campus and Central, as well as Euclid.

State Highway Engineer E. Sullivan has asked Ontario and Upland city officials to arrange a meeting to discuss the new detailed plans.

Upland Girl Scouts Hostess To Brownies

Upland Girl Scout troop (intermediate) 27, was hostesses to the Upland Brownie Troop 46 at their regular meeting held last week.

Part of the time was devoted to teaching the Brownies and the leaders folk dances and games as part of their folk dance and game badge work. Games and dances were played on the lawn at the Girl Scout House, after which refreshments were served by the Scouts.

Those present, besides the girls of both troops, were Mrs. E. Robinson and Mrs. A. Rice, leaders of Troop 27, and Mrs. L. Cassel, Mrs. E. H. Alford and Mrs. K. Martin, leaders of Troop 46.

People Behind the Scenes at the Fair

The big Chaffey Fair is over but not forgotten.

Record breaking crowds attended the two-day event on the school campus.

It was a student fair but behind the scenes were the Chaffey custodians, maintenance men, cafeteria and office workers—the school's non-certificated personnel—who shared the role of hosts.

Labor Blossoms

Students and teachers, particularly those who have worked behind scenes for many months constructing booths, stage sets and other furnishings necessary for the first post-war renewal of the school-wide exhibition, took special pride in seeing their labor blossom into one of the finest school fairs in Chaffey history.

High school principal Ernest W. Fischer, in charge of the fair, and Albert A. Simay, Chaffey comptroller, both expressed their praise for the cooperation given the faculty and pupils by the non-teaching staff.

Special Scenery

Maintenance men, including school carpenters, painters, electricians and plumbers, constructed most of the special scenery frames for the Extravaganza, which the students covered and painted.

This division also built the base and figures for the keynote exhibit in the girls' gym dramatizing the "Gold Rush of '49", theme of the fair, and also painted and erected all exhibit booths in the two gymnasiums.

The booths themselves, 32 in all, were constructed by students in the advanced woodshop classes of the high school under Mr. Everett Tolman. Mr. Ralph Coleman, mechanic arts department head, who designed the booths, described this construction project as most outstanding and important, since it was necessary to replace all such equipment accumulated in previous fairs, it having been used for other purposes during the materials shortage days of the war.

All Departments Work

Metal hooks any eyes, used to assemble the break-down exhibit booth sections, were designed and fashioned in the metal shop by students of Mr. Barton and Mr. Bowers.

Many panels for posters, plus over 40 special fencing standards and fencing sections to mark the larger exhibit areas, were built in the woodshop classrooms, together with the wishing well and the platform used in the home-making department's fashion tea.

The marionette stage, used in the English department's booth to dramatize correct English usage, was built by the woodshop students of Mr. Herrling.

Cook Hotdogs

Cafeteria workers, too, are playing an indispensable role by baking hundreds of apple, cherry and pineapple turnovers, brewing untold gallons of coffee and lending expert hand in the production of nearly 2000 hotdogs, for sale at the concession stands on the grounds, together with ice cream, soft drinks and other refreshments.

Descendant of Spanish Settlers Killed Here

One of Ontario's beloved pioneers, said to be a descendant of an old California Spanish family, died early this morning as the result of a traffic accident.

Joe Lugo, 65, 809 Greenwood street, was hit by a car as he walked along the street at Bon View near Mission Boulevard Sunday evening. He was taken to San Antonio Community hospital and found to be suffering from shock, skull fracture and compound fractures of both legs. Transferred to San Bernardino county hospital, he expired early this morning and the body is now at Richardson's mortuary, 123 West G street.

Ran Into Road

Driver of the fatal car was Phillip Leslie Henshaw, Route 2, Riverside, who said he was traveling east on Highway 60 in the outside lane at the rate of approximately 45 miles an hour. The pedestrian, Joe Lugo, ran in front of the car, said Henshaw, causing the front fender of his vehicle to strike the man.

According to Julia Fuqua, 80-year-old pioneer, of Chino, who recently delivered a talk before the Native Sons organization in Ontario, Lugo is believed to be a descendant of Francisco Salvadore del Lugo, who settled in Los Angeles in 1798.

Lived Alone

A son, Don Antonio Mario Lugo, settled in Santa Ana del Chino on a rancho composed of 22,000 acres, and his herds became so numerous at one time in the early part of the 19th century, that officials of Los Angeles said they had "become a nuisance".

Originally a resident of Chino, where it is believed his grandmather Don Antonio, settled, Joe Lugo moved to Ontario 15 years ago, where he lived alone.

C. M. Rubidoux, another old pioneer of this community, and a close friend of the Lugo family, said that he knew Joe at least 50 years ago. Of late years Lugo worked as an expert citrus tree pruner.

"Good Old Joe" will be mourned by many friends in Ontario, who knew him as a kindly, neighborly, unassuming man whose family dug deep roots in the community and contributed greatly to its development.

Meet To Work Out Next Step To Lift Blockade

NEW YORK, (AP) — Envoys of the United States, Britain and France met privately today to work out the next phase of the dealings with Russia on lifting the Berlin blockade.

The meeting was called by Philip C. Jessup, U. S. Ambassador-at large, after a weekend of conferences in Washington with Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Sir Alexander Cadogan represented Britain and Jean Chauvel sat in for France.

Russian Meeting Not Set

No meeting with Russia's Jakob A. Malik has been set.

The British and French delegates have been kept informed of Jessup's talks with Malik about lifting the 10-month-old blockade. Today's discussions were expected to be on a common plan of procedure.

A meeting between Jessup and Malik, or a meeting of all four big power representatives, may be arranged after today's session.

Discuss Date

One of the points to be discussed this afternoon is a date for lifting the Berlin blockade, and another is the setting of a date for a meeting of the four-power council of foreign ministers.

A date for a meeting of the council is one of Russia's conditions for lifting the blockade. A date for lifting the blockade may be set this week.

Jessup has been carrying on closed door discussions with Malik on the Berlin blockade more than two months.

In London, a British foreign office spokesman said the dates for ending the blockade and the meeting of the foreign ministers would be decided after the British and Frence were brought into the talks.

The British spokesman said "certain tentative dates have been mentioned" in the Jessup-Malik conversations here. Informed sources said Britain favored a foreign minister's meeting late this month in Paris.

Work Completed On Plant For Pacific Guano

Work has just been completed on the Pacific Guano company's new liquir fertilizer plant, located on Sultana between Emporia and the Southern Pacific tracks, in Ontario.

The newly established liquid fertilizer division of the Pacific Guano company, located in this new plant, is under the supervision of C. P. Hayes, widely known in this area as an expert in the preparation and application of liquid fertilizer compounds.

Plans for the construction of this plant in Ontario have been under consideration by the Pacific Guano company for several years, but actual work on the plant was not started until technical difficulties in the manufacture of liquid fertilizer were overcome by Pacific Guano company chemists.

According to Dr. Wallace Macfarlane, vice-president in charge of the southern division of Pacific Guano company, products manufactured in the liquid division here will be of the highest possible quality and concentration.

The Pacific Guano company is well known for the quality of its products, and this new division is especially welcomed by the citrus growers in this area. The people of Ontario can be proud of their newest industry.

BAGS LIMIT

Harold Horner, Jr., bagged the limit Sunday at Cucamonga, when he brought home a creel full of trout, most of them between 14 and 18 inches. The fish were on display Monday at the Cycle and Sport shop.

Hard Hit Growers Could Make Loans From Government

Steps are now underway to have San Bernardino county declared a disaster area in order that citrus growers who suffered damages during the big freeze may obtain government loans.

At a meeting of the Farmers Home Administration last week it was decided to recommend that the California citrus area be declared a disaster area. This recommendation has been forwarded to Washington for action by the federal administrator and the secretary of agriculture.

Not Designated Yet

Riverside county offices of the Farmers Home Administration pointed out that the area has not yet been designated and requested that information concerning loans be made after the proper action has been taken in Washington.

Representative Harry Sheppard reported from Washington today that the secretary of agriculture had outlined the policies and procedures for making loans to farmers and stockmen in disaster areas.

At the time of the freeze Sheppard appointed a subcommittee to make a thorough investigation and confer with the department of agriculture for the purpose of working out some relief in behalf of those farmers who suffered freeze losses.

Secretary's Letter

Here is the letter which Representative Sheppard received from the secretary of agriculture.

"The primary purpose of the program is the extending of credit, in designated disaster areas, to farmers and stockmen who have suffered damage as a result of a production disaster, and who are unable to obtain credit from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources.

Disaster loans may be made for essential agricultural purposes, including farm and home operating expenses. These loans will bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum on the unpaid principal, and will be scheduled for repayment over a minimum period consistent with the borrower's anticipated ability to repay.

Repayment will be scheduled in at least annual installments when it appears that the applicant will be able to meet such payments from income. However, it is real-

The appointment was announced at the April dinner meeting of the association by the group's president, Herman F. Hahn, executive vice-president, Union Bank and Trust Co. of Los Angeles.

Need Only Three Days To Solve Local Robbery

Three Los Angeles men pleaded guilty to charges of petty theft and were sentenced to fines and jail terms in Judge Mildred Puckett's court Saturday as the result of robbing the Green Memorial hospital in Upland last week. Conviction of the three came within five days of the report of the theft, as the result of an investigation carried on by Upland police.

Daniel R. Ramierez, 19, was arrested at the Bell Foundry Co., his place of work. He received a fine of $250 and 180 days in the county jail. He was offered suspension of 90 days of his term if the $250 was paid. He did not pay. He is now serving his jail sentence.

Arrested at Hospital

Rudolph Ramierez, 21, was also arrested while he was at work in the Los Angeles general hospital. He received a fine of $250 and 180 days in the county jail. Judge Puckett ordered a stay of execution on the 180-day sentence for a probationary period of one year. The sentence will be executed if further offenses are reported. He was released on payment of $50 of the fine. He promised to pay $200 on Monday.

Richard Hernandez, 19, unemployed, was arrested on the street in Los Angeles. He received a similar sentence to Daniel Ramierez'. He is now serving his sentence in the county jail.

Result of Lead

The arrests were made by Upland Police Captain H. A. Young and Officer Felix Quesada. The case was cleared as the result of a lead provided by John Martinez, 290 Main street, Cucamonga, who explained that the three convicted men had brought him to the hospital after he was injured in a fight in Cucamonga.

Dr. Robert McBurney, called to treat Martinez at 11 p.m. Sunday, later reported that a pair of eyeglasses, sterile syringes, some vials of penicillin and vitamin tablets, were stolen from his car while he treated the man at Memorial hospital.

Also stolen from the hospital office was an adding machine. The three explained that they had pilfered the machine while the nurses and Dr. McBurney were out of sight in the emergency room. They then went out and raided the doctor's car. All the stolen articles were recovered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Montez in Los Angeles, relatives of the Ramierez brothers.

Hermosa Water Company's New System Ready

The Hermosa Water company announces that improvements to its water system in the citrus area north of the Base Line and east of Alta Loma, will probably be completed this month.

Old pressure lines are being put in good condition and will be maintained for a domestic system and for improved fire use.

New concrete pipe with little pressure is being installed for irrigation use.

The changes were voted and approved by the shareholders at their annual meeting two years ago but because of the task of obtaining rights-of-way for the new system the program has met delays. However, it is believed it will be in use for irrigation early in May.

The Hermosa Water company was organized in 1879 when the promoters secured the water rights in Deer and other canyons to the north and piped the water to the lands now known as the Hermosa tract.

ized that this cannot always be done and provisions are made for scheduling the first repayment at the end of the second year following the date of the loan when such action is made necessary by the applicant's anticipated income. Also, in unusual situations, the first repayment will be deferred for a longer period on an individual case basis.

"Generally, disaster loans will be secured by (1) a first lien on all livestock and farm machinery and equipment purchased or refinanced with loan proceeds, (2) the best lien obtainable on crops growing or to be grown, and (3) the best lien obtainable on as much of the livestock and farm equipment of value owned by the applicant as the loan approving official determines necessary.

Under these policies, an eligible citrus grower will be able to borrow for authorized purposes in connection with his operation and his loan will be scheduled for repayment over a period consistent with his ability to repay. Real estate security will be taken when advances are being made principally for improvements to real estate and in other selected cases where this type of security is required to protect the government's interest.

"The authority and responsibility for the administration of the disaster loan program has been delegated to the Farmers Home Administration and applications for such loans will be made at the local county offices of that administration. Disaster areas will be announced as they are designated. In the meantime, county supervisors and other personnel of the Farmers Home Administration will be glad to explain the program to any interested party."

Fishing and Hunting

Roy Creighton underwent a serious operation last Friday morning at the San Antonio Community Hospital. His condition is reported as good, and we all hope he will have a speedy recovery.

Talked to Leigh (Dick) Thompson last Saturday. He reports fishing at Lake Henshaw as below par. The fish are spawning and not hitting too well. Dick seems to think when the weather warms up a bit, fishing will improve.

Trout season opened with a bang this week with just about everyone catching their limit.

The local streams yielded the biggest catches, with the lakes running a close second. Big Bear Lake was not quite up to par for the first day, Lake Arrowhead yielded catches from 9 to 16 inches. The largest reported being four pounds. Lake Gregory yielded fine catches the first day but went far below par the second day.

Most of the fishing in the lakes was salmon eggs with trolling running second. Fishermen along the banks of all lakes caught nice fish.

Received the following information from Bob Crosby of the Southern California Automobile Club, too late for publication last week, but maybe it will be of benefit to someone this week:

Lake Wohlford: A few large bass taken on mudsuckers and river runt plugs. Catfishing good, and crappie and bluegill slow. Water rising, but clear.

Millerton Lake: Bass fishing reported good, using deep-running lures during the day and surface lures early morning and late afternoon. Popping bugs and streamer flies being used with success.

Lake Mead, Overton: Weather fair and warm. Bass fishing has been good, using fresh water suckers, Shannon twin spinner, daily double, and green bomber.

Havasu Lake, Airpark Site "6": Good bass fishing, with best results using bombers, lucky 13, and live bait.

Irvine Lake: This lake had a very good opening on April 27. Good catches of bass, catfish, and crappie were landed. Charlie Johnson took an 8-pound bass. Two 7½-pound bass and a number of 4-pounders were brought in. Bomber, injured minnow, and Russelure were the best plugs. A number of limits of catfish were caught and crappie fishing was good.

Oceanside Pier (6:50): Fair to good catches of bass and halibut have been reported. Bait is plentiful.

San Diego, Point Loma, H. & M. Sportfishers (Bayview 2-1144): Yellowtail are hitting at Coronado Bait is good and plentiful.

Santa Barbara: Lots of surf perch and a few corbina are being caught in the surf. Pier fishing is fair.

Malibu Pier (Malibu 7015): Fishing was good here all the past week. Lots of haubut and bass were brought in. Pier fishing is good for halibut, kingfish and perch.

Ocean Park Pier (Texas 0-3090): Limit catches of barracuda, bass and halibut were made the past few days. Pier fishing has been good for halibut.

Redondo Beach, Monstad Pier (Frontier 3566): Limit catches of bottom fish and bass are being made daily. Barge fishing is good. Lots of halibut are being caught off the pier.

San Pedro, Martin's 22nd Street Landing (Terminal 2-5884): Fishing has improved and good catches of halibut, calico bass, bull bass, and some small barracuda are being made daily.

Long Beach, Pacific Water Taxi (Nevada 6-2067): Fair to good catches of halibut and bass and barracuda. Fishing at Catalina is on the upgrade. The "Kiaora" is making daily runs to San Clemente Island, leaving at 2:00 a. m.

Long Beach, Pierpont Landing (Long Beach 7-1005): Local boats are doing very well on bass and Newport Beach, Port Orange (Beacon 5525): Fishing improving generally. Some nice large halibut and barracuda coming in now. Some yellowtail are being caught by San Clemente Island boat.

More Volunteers Needed Here for Disaster Work

More volunteers are needed for the Ontario disaster work.

All persons who wish to volunteer to assist in case of disaster are asked to register with the personnel officer of the disaster council in the city hall.

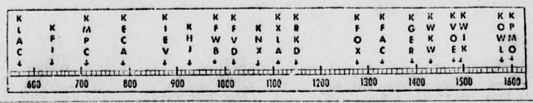

This registration qualifys volunteers for workman's compensation benefits in case of injury while working under supervision during a disaster.

Early registration will permit the council to assign workers to units. Each unit of disaster relief will be under competent leadership as provided by local city ordinance 832.

Registration of practically all Ontario city employes has been completed.

JANNINA, Epirus, Greece, Headquarters, A Corps and 8th Division, Greek National Army —(By wireless)—Lieut. Col. Seldon R. Edner of the American air force, from San Jose, Calif., who died Jan. 21, 1949, the day Communist guerrillas took the town of Karpenisia, did not perish in an airplane crash, as reported by the guerrillas, but was murdered by them.

This opinion, held by U. S. army advisers to the Greek forces who, upon the liberation of Karpenisia 18 days later, found his stripped and mutilated body in a ravine, was confirmed by this columnist from the first eyewitness report—and by sheer accident. She was accompanied by Lieut. Stephen Merrill of Garden City, Kans., who is with public information in the American advisory forces and, due to the Greek origin of his parents, is a fluent translator.

I am visiting the fighting fronts in Macedonia and Epirus. A peculiarly tragic phase of guerrilla ruthlessness is the forcible abduction of young girls from villages and their impressment into Communist fighting forces. There many were killed and others captured by the Greek army and, after screening, were returned to their villages when liberated from the Communists.

Today, in Jannina, where there is a large screening camp, I picked at random half a dozen of the youngest girl prisoners for interviewing. Youngest of all was Antigoni Kavidia, aged 15, who was carried off by guerrillas when Karpenisia was taken by them. She gave an account of her tribulations without mention of an airplane crash. But when Politimi Saini, aged 21, later was brought in to tell more regarding Karpenisia, she remarked: "I was taken from my home only a few hours after an airplane crash."

Since the only plane crash was of an unarmed reconnaissance plane containing Edner, we pricked up our ears. However, she could give no further account than that the plane, hit on the outskirts of the town, flew in at a low altitute and crashed within 600 feet of her house. But 15-year-old Antigoni took up the story in meticulous detail as follows:

"I had been taken by the guerrillas and assembled with others near a warehouse, from which we were to unload and evacuate supplies, when a plane crashed not more than fifty feet away. I was in a ravine, but saw all. The plane nose-dived to the ground and I saw a man crawl out. He seemed to be hurt or suffering from shock. He did not stand, but crouched on the ground (Antigoni illustrated his position), with a hand grasping the plane.

"He immediately was surrounded by guerrillas. I heard them shout, 'He is not a Greek. He can't speak the language. He is an American,' and they yelled and cursed at him.

"Both bandit chieftains brigade leaders Baudekos and Volgos were right there. I do not know who gave the order, but one of the bandits pulled a pistol and shot the American twice in the presence of these leaders. I then saw them taking off his clothes. I heard them all shout, 'Long Live Baudekos.' I do not know what they did with the body after that."

Antigoni — tiny, brown-eyed, blonde-haired girl, who does not look more than 12, but participated in guerrilla battles, wielding a British rifle — told the story swiftly and vividly with perfect consistency, illustrating all with gestures, showing how the incident had been vividly retained in her mind. Although Greek and American army authorities have cross-questioned many prisoners trying to find the truth, this is the first eye-witness report that can be called unsolicited and is utterly unexpected.

The guerrilla radio falsified the story on two counts. It claimed: First, that the plane bombed the town. (It was unarmed and a reconnaissance only). Second, that Edner died in the crash. (He was able to leave the plane. He could have been taken prisoner and hospitalized, but was brutally killed in the presence and with the consent of the guerrilla leaders.)

NEW YORK—We have just dragged a pood fellow named Paul Makushak out of a tiny box in Brooklyn, where he has been dug in for 10 years in an attempt to escape reality. When they hauled him, blinking and stumbling into the sunlight, Mr. Makushak's reaction to the world outside was negative.

He said simply that he didn't care much for the way things were going and that as soon as people quit bothering him he aimed to crawl back in his hole. Things weren't exactly hygienic in Paul's lair, but by golly it was quiet. This odd—for today—attitude stamps Paul as mentally suspect. I wonder who's queer in the head?

If the bearded hermit is found guilty of sanity, after the psychologists get through poking and probing at him, he could be convicted of draft evasion. He failed to register for the draft, and simply sat out the war. A draft conviction would be a fitting commentary on the strange new world that Paul Makushak sees: You pull a man out of a self-imposed prison to shut him up in another box, at state's expense.

Mr. Makushak need not feel that time has altogether passed him by. As he was hauled from his closet, our secretary of state was demanding arms for the Atlantic pacters, but was promising stoutly that no American boys would be required to serve abroad as an adjunct to the free weapons. That struck a surprisingly reminiscent note. It seems to me Mr. Roosevelt was saying the same thing just about the time Paul crawled into his closet and nailed up the door.

If Mr. Makushak is reading the papers, he must find it a little odd that his people are stuck with nine million bucks worth of aircraft carrier keel. Not even the other hermits, the Collyers, had an aircraft carrier keel in the massed debris in which he dwelt. What can you do with a keel nobody wants?

I should not be surprised if Mr. Makushak were slightly puzzled over the shenanigans in Washington, where the President is unaware that construction on a billion-dollar war boat has been started, and where its construction is ordered killed without consulting the secretary of the navy or the chief of naval operations. Puzzled me, anyhow, and I ain't been shut up in a box.

He must wonder what gives when we talk peace with the Russians on one hand while congressmen and retired generals declare war on them with the other. Headline for Mr. Makushak: Reds overun China while diplomats discuss Berlin blockade.

After a week or so, I should like to question Mr. Makushak on a variety of subjects. What, for instance, is his stand on oleomargarine? What does he think of Be-Bop? How does he feel about Rita Hayworth and the Aly Khan? What is his theory about the flying discs? How about wiretapping, wrong or right? Would he favor a heavy bonus for the veterans? What about television?

As the mysteries of radar unfold about his eyeglassed head, and when he hears of the wonders of the Schnorkel breathing apparatus for submarines, and has been fully indoctrinated on germ warfare, the guided missile and atomic power, I imagine some of Mr. Makushak's serenity will vanish, and he will curse the day that woman found him in his hole.

The ranch home of Mrs. V. H. Wilson in Hemet was the setting for the meeting of the Past Matrons association of Upland Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Saturday.

MRS. JOSEPH F. DE CARLI

Norma Bodini and Frank De Carli Wed In Rites in St. George's Church

St. George's Catholic church, Ontario, was the setting for a beautiful ceremony Saturday morning, April 23, when Miss Norma Mary Bodini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evaristo Bodini, 693 North Second avenue, became the bride of Joseph Frank De Carli, son of Mrs. Erselia De Carli, 2575 West Valley boulevard, Fontana.

The Rt. Rev. Mgsr. John M. Hegarty read the double ring service at 10 o'clock, in the presence of some 50 relatives and friends. Large baskets of white stock and potted palms were used in decoration of the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white satin gown. The bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves, and the full skirt was en train. Her fingertip length illusion veil was decorated with forget-me-nots, and was held in place by a net halo. She carried a white prayer book, on which rested a white orchid with satin ribbon streamers.

Miss Anita Segna of Fontana attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a gown of dusty rose taffeta and carried a nosegay of lavender pansies tied with lavender ribbon.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Robert G. Wilkinson of Duarte, was also in dusty rose taffeta, and carried a nosegay of lavender and yellow pansies.

The little flower girl, Heidi Nimmergut of Ontario, wore a frock of dusty rose taffeta and carried a white basket of rose petals and pansies.

Condy De Carli of Fontana served his brother as best man, and ushers were Raymond J. Bondini, brother of the bride, and Robert G. Wilkinson of Duarte, her brother-in-law.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Joseph P. Nikodem played appropriate selections and accompanied her daughter, Miss Barbara Nikodem, who sang "Ave Maria (Schubert), "Panis Angelecus" and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother." Mrs. Nikodem also played the traditional wedding marches for the entrance of the wedding party and the recessional.

At 1 o'clock, 50 guests were entertained at a wedding breakfast at Haldeman House, Alta Loma, where the bride's mother received guests in a gray silk street-length dress complemented with an orchid corsage. Mrs. De Carli, mother of the bridegroom, was in a navy blue dress with an orchid corsage. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Heidi and Kurt Nimmergut circulated the guest book.

Later in the afternoon, when the newlyweds left on a two-weeks' honeymoon trip, which will take them to Vancouver, British Columbia, the bride was attired in a gray tailored suit with black accessories. On their return, they will reside with the bride's parents.

The bride was graduated from Our Lady of Good Counsel school in Newark, N. J., and has resided in this community for the past three years. She is employed as a bookkeeper at the Cucamonga branch of the Bank of America.

Mr. De Carli, who is a bricklayer by trade, received his education in the East, and served for two and one-half years in the U. S. Army during World War II.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

AS DEBBY and Tim entered the Town Hall with its flower-lined walls a captain of aviation, slim, rangy, blond, seized Deb in his arms and kissed her with a resounding smack that drew the astonished attention of every person within a radius of thirty feet, and flushed her face a brilliant pink.

"Light-of-my-eyes, where have you been? Didn't Pop put you wise that I was coming? I've only ten minutes in which to tell you I love you before I shove off again."

"My word, Gordy, haven't you grown up even in the service?" Deb laughed and tucked her hand under his arm. "Why go on the air about the tender passion? Let's find a quiet spot where we can talk. When your father phoned I wondered why he was so anxious to know where I would be this afternoon."

"Sure, he was anxious, he wants to keep his ace secretary in the family. So do I." They walked away together.

"That seems to be that," Tim observed under his breath. He bought a catalogue from a girl in USO regalia and was waylaid by another with a flat basket of boutonnieres. He shook his head and touched the bachelor-buttons in his coat lapel.

"Presented by a lovely lady. No can change."

He laughed and dropped a bill into her basket. On he went from exhibit to exhibit, from incredibly tall stalks of late delphiniums which ran the gamut of blues and purples, past tables laden with glass vases displaying gladioli in exquisite tints and shades and dahlias by the colorful score.

Canaries in golden cages were bursting their yellow throats in song, as if in competition with the wired-in music. He caught up with Molly B. in silver gray and a large red hat. She was standing before a shadow-box in which were arranged all white flowers, single dahlias, snapdragon, glads, one perfect lily, a faint mist of feathery gypsophilia in a pale green Lalique vase.

"Like it, Tim?" she inquired. "It won the silver bowl."

"It's all right. I would have put my money on that squatty gold affair with the yellow roses, but I'm no judge I'm such a push-over for color."

"So am I. It is food and drink to me. Have you seen Deb?"

"We came together. When she stepped into the hall she was seized by an aviation captain and soundly kissed. Those flyers get away with murder."

"A captain? He must be the son of her Washington boss, who was her father's best friend. What is he doing here?"

"Making violent love to your granddaughter was indicated."

"I wish the violent love-making would dent her heart. She is sweet and lovely with us all, but I have the feeling there are frozen depths that nothing has stirred."

He thought of the girl's tempest of tears under the pine tree. Unless he was mistaken the "frozen depths" not only had stirred, they had smashed. Apparently Molly B. didn't know of what Deb had called a "weep-fest."

"Don't worry about her. Being with you will swing her back to normal. Do we eat? I was so busy transporting the experts and changing my clothes while they were at work that I forgot lunch. I'm hollow to my toes."

"Did those men report anything more to you?"

"No. Nothing definite till tomorrow. We'd better sign off on that subject, Molly B. Even your whisper carries."

"You are right. Judge Lander will join us at tea. Don't start anything with him, please, Tim."

"Me, start anything? Here? Lady, do you think I am that crude? Watch me be a perfect gentleman. Here comes your granddauughter. She's the snappiest dish in the hall and the prettiest."

"I agree. That makes it unanimous. Take her to the tearoom. I have a table engaged. Ingrid is rounding up the others. I'll join you in a few minutes." She turned to speak to two girls who were holding out books for her to autograph.

"What became of the Great Lover?" Tim inquired as Deborah joined him.

"Already on his way to California and points west."

"Is he the plan to which you referred?"

"Plan? What plan?"

"Forgotten that you refused to marry me because you had other plans?"

"Be noble and cross off your memory book the fact that I refused to marry a man who hadn't asked me. As to the plan, I was referring to a career, and believe it or not, from what I have observed of the casualties it won't be matrimony. Having answered that world-shaking question, we'd better follow Molly B. She is looking over her shoulder at us."

As if to separate Lander, seated at her right, and him as much as possible, Madam Stewart had directed Tim to the seat across the table from her. Sam Farr, in white, was at his left, and Tilly in yellow linen on his other side. Her right arm was covered from wrist to elbow with gold bangles which clashed with every movement of her hand. The sound drew the Judge's eyes to her like a magnet—was that her intention?

Deb, Sophy Brandt, Stella Dane, Romney and Warner, who had arrived late, filled out the table. Laughter and repartee, conversation, with the Judge grabbing the spotlight with his account of recent contributions to the college and his plans for its advancement, were accompanied by the tinkle of silver on china, the ecstatic trill of canaries which rose above the soft, radioed strains of "It Might As Well Be Spring," the scent of many flowers and the aroma of coffee and tea. Sam Farr touched Tim's sleeve and indicated Lander with a wave of his spoon.

" 'Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed, That he is grown so great?' " he quoted softly. He raised a glass of water and hummed behind its shelter:

"Some day I'm going to murder the bugler . . ."

Ingrid Johnson stepped from the long window to the terrace, the light from the room behind set the silver sequins on her midnight blue dinner frock shimmering. Tim Grant slid off the wall on which he had been perched thinking and smoking.

"Molly B. said you had something to tell me, Tim," she explained. "She sounded terribly serious. What have I done?" The exaggerated fear in her voice and the nervous laugh which followed he recognized as an act.

"You have done nothing, Ingrid, it is what has been done to you I have to report."

"To me?" The concern in her question was genuine.

"Let's go to the bench on the edge of the lake. We can't be overheard there. Swell night," he observed as they walked along the garden paths. "Not even a hint of September crispness. How did the Flower Show turn out?"

"A social success, but with the usual amount of heartburning and bursts of temper over the awards. I am exhausted from my efforts to keep things smooth, and to make myself heard above the crescendo trills of those indefatigable canaries. However, we made money for USO and that was what we were after. Next year there will be more than two hundred thousand veterans in hospitals, and a million and a half servicemen on duty, part of them the 'kid-brother army.' The United Service Organizations must continue to function. We can't let them die cut."

"I should say not. Here we are. The bench is dry." He sat beside her. "In this light the island looks like a fragment of fairyland dropped into the five-mile-long lake. By the time I was ten I could swim from the campus boathouse to the island. I was sure then that making good as a swimming champ was my destiny."

"Funny how youthful ideas change. As a boy by brother's ambition was to be a jockey. He was a chemist assigned to work on explosives when the war started. Let's not stall any longer, please. Tell me what this conference is about, Tim. It isn't that Molly B. wants me to leave and has asked you to break the news, is it?"

"Good Lord, no, What put that fantastic idea into your head?"

"Not so fantastic when you realize that Judge Lander detests me. She has a great respect for his opinion."

"He doesn't like me and is doing his darndest to oust me from the neighborhood; so far he hasn't succeeded. Molly B. wouldn't cut you out of her life any more than she would carve out a piece of her heart. I brought you here to tell you that your papers had been snitched from her safe."

COTTON CHAMELEON

Here's a versatile, new season dress which can change its effect at the drop of a piece of scenery. With a skyscraper backdrop, it's the crisp and appropriate affair shown in the picture. Switch the backdrop to country club or sand dunes and — presto — the jacket comes off and the wearer looks smart while catching the sun. The dress is of Raycrest cotton, available in oxford, blue, brown or green, and sells for about $18. It's one of the new cotton fashions shown in the May issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Fighting Phillies Are Out of Cellar After Poor Start

BROOKLYN, (AP)—They laughed when the Philadelphia's National League representatives said that hereafter they would be known as the "Fightin' Phillies."

They laughed all the harder when the Quaker City's chronic second division outfit proceeded to belie their new nickname by dropping six of their first nine starts. But that was four days ago.

They're not laughing any more. The rival National League clubs simply fail to see anything funny about a team that just got through knocking off the Brooklyn Dodgers three times in as many days, in their own backyard. Lest we forget, the Dodgers were generally rated as the club to beat for the flag.

Out of Cellar

Yesterday's 4-2 victory over the Dodgers boosted the Phils out of the league cellar, 12 percentage points above the Chicago Cubs. They now have a won-lost record of 6-8, are only half a game out of the first division and three games behind the front-running Boston Braves, with an 11-game home stand starting tomorrow.

The Braves moved into undisputed first place in the National, winning both ends of a doubleheader from the New York Giants, 6-5 and 4-2, before 33,402 home town rooters. Sibby Sisti's ninth inning pinch single, with the bases loaded, drove in the tying and winning runs. The Giants had broken a 4-4 tie in the top of the ninth on Bobby Thomson's home run.

Antonelli Wins

Johnny Antonelli, Boston's high-priced 19-year-old bonus southpaw, won his first big league game in his first major league start in the nightcap. He allowed six hits, walked nine and was rescued by Nelson Potter when he walked the first three men to face him in the ninth. Potter got Sid Gordon to line into a double play to end the game.

Harry (the Cat) Brecheen and Stan Musial teamed up to give the St. Louis Cardinals an 8-3 triumph over the Cubs. Brecheen spread out 13 hits for his second victory. Musial led the hitting attack on five Cub hurlers with three hits and two walks in five times at bat. He drove in two runs.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati divided a doubleheader, the Pirates winning the opener, 10-4, and the Reds taking the second game, 5-2. Danny Murtaugh helped Bob Chesnes gain his first victory of the season in the opener, rapping out three hits and driving in four runs. Bud Lively pitched a six-hitter and Danny Litwhiler cracked out three hits for the Reds in the nightcap.

The Boston Red Sox, after two straight beatings by the New York Yankees, finally came to life, blasting Allie Reynolds and Frank Shea for 14 hits and an 11-2 triumph. Johnny Pesky, Vern Stephens and Ted Williams walloped home runs for the winners.

Bob Lemon pitched a two-hitter for Cleveland, but bowed to Detroit's Hal Newhouser, 3-2, on Dick Wakefield's three-run homer in the first inning.

Two for A's

The Philadelphia Athletics smashed out two more victories over the hapless Washington Senators, 15-9 and 7-3, with the second game halted after seven innings because of the Pennsylvania curfew law.

Outfielder Elmer Valo paced the first game attack with a pair of triples, each coming with the bases loaded. Hank Majeski and Mike Guerra homered in the second game to give Alex Kellner his first major league victory.

The Chicago White Sox whipped the Browns twice in St. Louis, 7-6 and 14-11, to make it seven in a row over the Browns this season. In all, the Sox have won eight games, the other coming against the Tigers.

Hollywood Takes Two To Stay in Coast Lead

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Pacific coast league fans saw some fine Sunday pitching— and also some fine Sunday slugging — but no change in the league lead. It's still Hollywood and San Diego one-two, a half game apart.

Hollywood had to come from behind twice to beat Seattle 4 to 3 and 10 to 9 while the slugging Padres did just that to beat San Francisco 6 to 3 and 9 to 4. The losses halted the Seals' winning streak at six games.

Portland and Oakland exchanged shutouts in their two games with two fine pitching jobs by Earl Jones of the Oaks and Ad Liska of the Beavers. Jones gave but four hits as the Oaks took the opener 3 to 0. In the nightcap, Liska flung a two-hitter to give the Beavers a 2 to 0 win.

Angels Split

Sacramento and Los Angeles also split. Joe Grace drove in the winning run in the last of the tenth to give the solons the second game 6 to 5. The Angels' margin in the first one was 3-1.

Some 9,000 fans saw Hollywood score twice after two were gone in the ninth to win their opener. John O'Neil singled and scored on Andy Skurski's blooper. Irv Noren then singled in Skurski after Gene Handley was walked.

A two run homer by Frank Kellcher and Skurski's triple gave the Stars a 5 to 0 lead in the second of the nightcap. Then the Rainiers cashed in four hits and two walks for four runs in the fourth. The Stars added another one in their half of the same inning. In the sixth, Al Lyons and Tony York homered to pace a Seattle five-run splurge. The game went two extra innings before the Stars finally managed to notch the win. George Genovez, whose double helped tie up the game at the end of the planned seven inning finale, tripled in the ninth to break the deadlock.

West Homers

At San Diego, Max West tied up the first game at 3-all in the sixth with a 3-run homer.. Then in the seventh, the Seals' Con Dempsey walked Luke Easter to force in the winning run. Bobby Wilson singled in two more. Vince Shupe and Dee Moore roundtripped in the sixth inning of the nightcap to pace a six run bombardment of the tailender. The score was knotted at three-three at the time.

In the first game at Oakland, Jones had to pitch four hit ball to best the five hitter that the Beavers' Hal Salzman turned in. Jones helped along his own cause by singling in the first of the Oaks' three. Johnny Rucker scored both of the Beaver nightcap runs. He was wild-pitched home for the first and homered for the other.

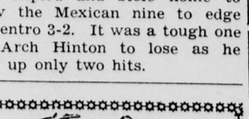

At Sacramento the Angels' Don Watkins held the Solons to four hits in the seven inning opener. In the second game, Johnny Ostrowski of the Angels tied up the ball game in the seventh with a three run homer, then let Grace's game-winning wallop go unchallenged in the tenth, hoping the ball would fall foul. It didn't.

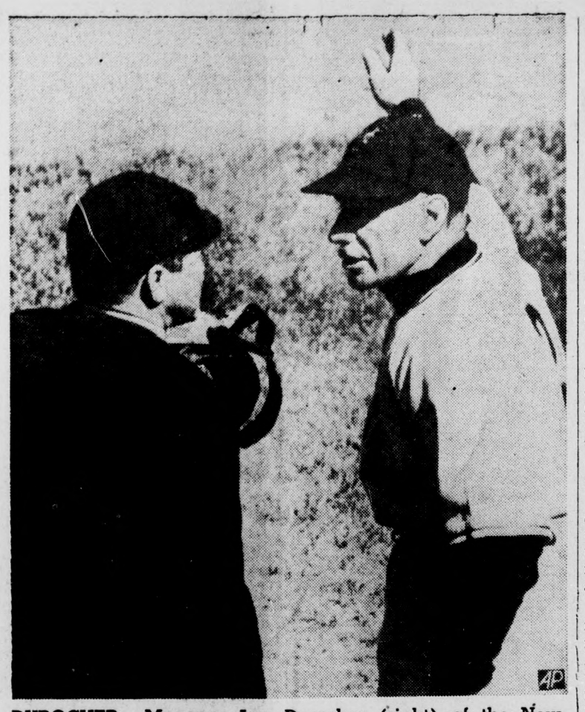

San Bernardino Drops Sunset League Opener

By the Associated Press

The Sunset league opened big league style--even to the presence of a former president of a country.

Down in Mexicali, just south of the border in Mexico, Abelardo Rodriguez, a former president of Mexico, presented Mexicali with the 1948 Sunset league pennant. Gov. Garcia Gonzales of Baja California threw in the first ball. Mexicali then gave the proper tagline to the ceremonies when Hugh Lapham tripled and stole home to allow the Mexican nine to edge El Centro 3-2. It was a tough one for Arch Hinton to lose as he gave up only two hits.

Chaffey's Surprising Tigers Win Citrus Belt League Crown

Chaffey's surprising Tigers upset the dopesters Saturday to run off with the Citrus Belt League track meet. Chaffey nosed out the favored San Bernardino Cardinals, 50 to 45, in the "A" meet. Riverside was third with 42; Pomona 19½; Colton 12½; and Redlands, 11.

San Bernardino won the "B" title with 59 points. Riverside was a far away second with 31 points; Pomona was third with 26½, Chaffey 16½, Colton 15, and Redlands 12.

Colton was the "C" meet with 41 points; San Bernardino had 30½ for second, Riverside 29½, Chaffey 26 and Redlands 5.

Martin Johnson was the boy who spark plugged the Tigers to their second straight Citrus Belt league win. Johnson pulled an ironman stunt with a record-breaking win in the low hurdles; first place in the high jump and a second place in the pole vault.

Four records went by the boards with one more tied during the course of the day-long meet. Bob Simon, Pomona's ace miler, came through as expected to trim the mile record with a sparkling 4:35.5. However, this was three seconds off his mark in the Chaffey Invitational.

Johnson's 20 flat in the low hurdles set another record, while big Jim Vick tossed the shot 52 feet 10 inches for the third mark. Verle Sorgen's 23-7 broad jump finished the record setting, and George Amburgey's record-tying time in the high hurdles completed the day's business.

Outstanding in the "C" meet was the 10.3 time turned in for the 100 yard dash by Chaffey's Lee. Winning time in the "B" meet was also 10.3, while the "A" meet time was 10 flat.

Two Games Left For Tigers in League Play

The Chaffey high Tigers are in second place in the Citrus Belt baseball league today with only two games left on their conference schedule. Coach Harry Yochem's nine is only a game behind the leading Pomona Red Devils.

The Tigers play Riverside, cellar occupants, tomorrow and then close their regular season Friday at Redlands. The Redlands team is tied for third place with four wins and four losses.

League leading Pomona must meet San Bernardino and Colton.

Chaffey moved into the second spot Friday with a thumping 11 to 5 win over Colton. At the same time last place Riverside won its first victory in league play with an upset win over San Bernardino.

First Baseman Van Huppert furnished the power with a 400 foot triple, good for two runs. Ronnie Davis, league leading hitter, came through with two hits in five trips to the plate. Although Pitcher Jack Roper wasn't around at the end of the game, he received credit for the win. Colton drove Roper from the mound in the seventh with four runs. Lefty Wulfe shut the Yellowjackets out in the last two innings.

Kentucky Derby Spirit Rising As Race Nears

LOUISVILLE, (AP) — Most everyone hereabouts began getting all hepped up about the Kentucky derby today, as is customary, except Trainer Ivan Parke of the favored Olympia.

"I actually believe," the former Idaho jockey said without batting an eye, "that Palestinian will be the one to beat. The horse who beats him will win the derby."

Parke and his younger brother, Monte, who trains Johns Joy—another fairly respectable derby candidate, were standing around "chinning" about Col. Matt J. Winn's big $100,000 affair next Saturday.

"I'm not a bit worried," Ivan said. "I'm just as cool as a cucumber. If the track is fast, there won't be anything to it for Olympia."

Ivan Parke looked up at the grey clouds which have been scurrying over Churchill Downs for several days, sprinkling intermittent showers.

"Of course, if it's an off track Saturday—well, I won't say. I'll admit we probably will have to do a lot of sweating."

Coach Truck Lindsey's Chaffey Tigers came thru with Orange and Black colors flying last Saturday when they copped the C.B.L. Thanks to Martin Johnson, who was busier than any other guy at the meet, winning the low hurdles in 20.0, for a new record; upset favored San Berdoo's Bob McGhie to place first in the high jump at 5 feet 11 inches, for another C.B.L. meet record. Marty also took a second place in the pole vault for a total of 14 points. This boy will no doubt go to Stanford, as his dad was at one time the Stanford track team coach. Sounds like another Gaylord Bryan, doesn't he?

Big Jim Vick set another record when he tossed the 12 pound ball 52 feet and 10 inches. The other record was set by Pomona's red-hot Bob Simon, in the mile. Although he has toured the four laps in better time, (4:32) he still broke the 21 year old C.B.L. record formerly held by Brooks of Redlands. He galloped the distance in 4:35.5, just one tenth better.

'Berdoo's Geo Amburgey tied the C.B.L. time when he skipped to a 15.4 win in the high hurdles. Lindsey has a well-balanced crew and should garner a few fat points in the C.I.F. meet to be held later on.

U. S. C.'s win over the Stanford Indians came as no major surprise, although the margin was lots larger than expected. S.C.'s John Cherry galloped to a win in the two mile, where Troy was supposed to go unplaced. Cherry ran the 8-lap affair some 15 seconds faster than he ever had before. He is from Colton High school, incidentally.

Lippy Leo Durocher's last escapade may actually be his last, at that. Leo, who has worn a deep groove in Happy Chandler's carpet, will find out his fate this Tuesday when Happy holds his hearing on Leo's alleged altercation with a loud-mouthed fan.

The long-distance view-point we get is Leo will get the book thrown at him. His past is colored by other acts that have found disfavor in the public's eyes and also High Commissioner Chandler. He has two big strikes on him before he ever comes to the plate.

Durocher, considered one of the greatest managers and strategists of the game, has apparently never learned to manage his own temper. Leo has a very low boiling point and even during his playing days, was a scrappy cuss, having fights with no less than Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth. It's beside the point who won. His actions off the field have caused lots of yakking and "bad-press." We think he will get booted out of baseball for life.

The other side of the picture is this: How much abuse and verbal insults does the purchase of a ticket to a game give the purchaser, and how much does a player have to take before he blows his top?? The players and managers, etc., should have some say-so or chance for rebuttal.

The thing we think is wrong, is to allow the fans to roam around the field after the game. By keeping the fans in the stands where they belong, they would at least be safe from the players after the game Of course, some players have crawled into the stands to give a fan a going over, for his cutting remarks. Anyway Chandler has a nifty problem before him and we are glad that he has to settle it and not us.

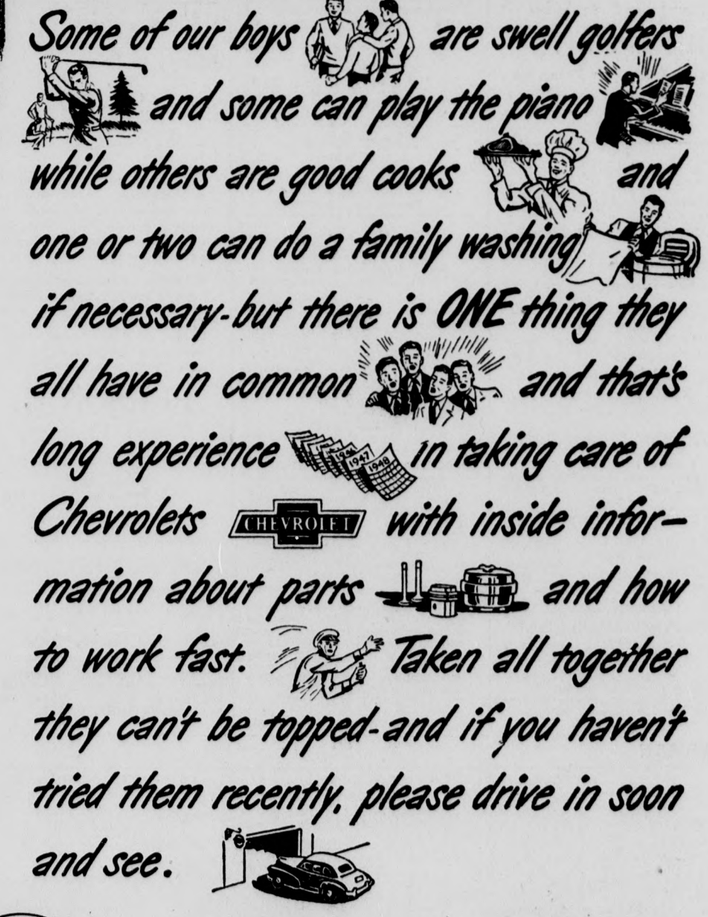

Pancho Gonzales Beats Falkenburg

OJAI, (AP) — National Tennis champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales beat Wimbledon Champion Bob Falkenburg in finals of the invitational men's singles of the 50th annual Ojai Valley Tennis tournament.

It was the evening of a year old score for Gonzales Saturday as Falkenburg had beaten the Los Angeles Mexican youth a year before for the title. Saturday's score was -5 and 6-3 for Gonzales.

Louise Brough took the women's division for the second straight year in breezing by Beverly Baker 6-1 and 6-4.
